Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias

- -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you?
- -Why do you think you had that reaction?
- -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family)
- -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences?
- -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?

Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias

- -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you?
- -Why do you think you had that reaction?
- -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family)
- -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences?
- -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?

Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias

- -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you?
- -Why do you think you had that reaction?
- -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family)
- -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences?
- -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?

Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias

- -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you?
- -Why do you think you had that reaction?
- -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family)
- -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences?
- -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?

Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias

- -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you?
- -Why do you think you had that reaction?
- -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family)
- -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences?
- -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?

Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias

- -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you?
- -Why do you think you had that reaction?
- -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family)
- -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences?
- -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?

Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias

- -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you?
- -Why do you think you had that reaction?
- -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family)
- -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences?
- -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?

Questions for Debriefing Implicit Bias

- -Was there anything on the home visit that made you uncomfortable or surprised you?
- -Why do you think you had that reaction?
- -Where do the cultural practices of the family you visited and the cultural practices of your own family differ? (cultural practices – i.e. beliefs, values, customs, language, dress, greetings, the role of family)
- -Do you think you are placing negative or positive value on these differences?
- -Is there an opportunity to look at these differences from another perspective?