AFT TEACH 2025 Conference

July 25-27 ► Washington, DC

Dear LEAH,

The AFT TEACH (Together Educating America's Children) conference will be held next summer, July 25-27, in Washington, D.C., and we want you to be a part of it.

The deadline for proposals has been extended to Jan. 1.

This energizing professional learning event offers an inspiring and collaborative experience for presenters and attendees alike; the conference is filled with timely strategies and practical resources you can take back to your school for a successful year ahead.

We invite members and partners to submit your session proposals for TEACH 2025.

Why submit a proposal?

- Showcase your expertise: Share your successful strategies, innovative ideas and best practices with an audience of dedicated educators.
- Build your network: Connect with fellow educators and innovators to foster professional relationships that extend far beyond the conference.
- Inspire change: Help shape the future of education by contributing ideas that can transform classrooms and empower teachers to bring out the best in their students.

What we're looking for:

We're seeking proposals that address the most pressing topics in education today, including:

- Instructional strategies like differentiation and hands-on experiential learning;
- Teaching subject-area content such as math, career and technical education and digital literacy;
- Student and educator safety and well-being, including social and emotional learning, bullying prevention and online safety; and
- Collaborating and working with colleagues, families and communities via strategies like community schools and parent engagement.

For the full list of topic areas, view the Workshop Proposal Guidelines.

What do attendees love about AFT TEACH?

- Participating in energizing, interactive sessions focused on the real challenges educators face every day;
- Learning practical, classroom-ready strategies designed to boost student engagement and improve learning outcomes;
- Returning to school recharged with new ideas that will ignite inspiration in both your students and colleagues; and
- Building authentic connections with colleagues nationwide to exchange ideas, resources and support.

If you want to inspire, engage and empower educators, we want to hear from you!

Submit session proposals by Jan. 1.

Conference registration will open in March. Sign up to receive updates on TEACH 2025. Learn more about the conference at aft.org/teach.

We look forward to reviewing your proposals and seeing you in July!
